

1662 and all that

A conference to commemorate 350 years of non-conformity in England

Reflecting on how non-conformity has helped to shape the Church and mission, and influenced economics, politics and society in England, the day will explore the on-going legacy of non-conformity and how it may help to mould the future.

Saturday 28th April 2012

at The United Reformed Church Stratford-upon-Avon

More details to follow, but book the date now.

Speakers:

Rev. Dr. David Cornick

General Secretary, Churches Together in England, and former General Secretary of the United Reformed Church and Principal of Westminster College Cambridge.

Rev. Dr. Janet Wootton,

Director of Studies, Congregational Federation.

There will be the opportunity for participants to present short papers on the topic of the conference. If you would like to present a short paper (maximum 10 minutes) at the conference, please contact the organiser, Rev. Dr. John Burgess, supplying a brief proposal.
