

TINY GRANTS

Tiny Grants were introduced in 2021 to provide a simple application process for small grants up to £1000 to support missional activities across the Synod. Below are some reflective questions when considering making an application:

1. How does this application develop discipleship?

Discipleship is an integral element of mission and applicants are encouraged to include this aspect in their submission.

2. How does this application promote collaborative working?

Increasing collaboration and resource sharing offers mutual support, encouragement and renewed energy when engaging in missional projects.

3. How does this application embrace the Synod's Environmental policy?

As far as possible, resources should be from within the URC, or sourced locally or nationally. Outside these parameters, the application needs to state what is unique to their resource/source to merit consideration.

4. How will this application feed into the vision the church has for the future?
